COACHING EDUCATION & SAFETY INFORMATION

Good morning,

Listed below are the first aid courses that the NFHS accepts for its National Coach Certification Program. The newest addition to the list is the Heartsaver First Aid course from the American Heart Association.

Also, please check www.nfhslearn.com frequently over the next couple days. The site will have a slightly new look and it will also launch its first FREE course: "Concussion in Sports – What You Need to Know". It may launch as soon as tomorrow!

Eligible sport first-aid courses completed within the last three (3) years.

- NFHS First Aid for Coaches (American Red Cross/USOC)
- PREPARE (National Center for Sports Safety)
- ASEP Sport First Aid
- Sport Safety Training (American Red Cross)
- Sports Injury Prevention and First Aid (American Red Cross)
- KMA/KHSAA Sports Safety Course (Kentucky)
- CARE AND PREVENTION OF ATHLETIC INJURIES (Maryland)
- MHSAA CAP 1 Module 3 Sports Medicine (Michigan)
- Fairfax County Sport First Aid (Virginia)
- American Heart Association – HeartSaver First Aid

College courses will not be accepted unless it resulted in a certification from the American Red Cross in Sports Injury Prevention and First Aid.

CPR training does not qualify as an eligible first aid course. You must have one of the first aid courses listed above to be eligible for NFHS Coach Certification.
